How to make a great poster*

(*replace this sentence by the number and the title of your paper)

First name, Family name
Affiliation, Country

First name, Family name
Affiliation, Country

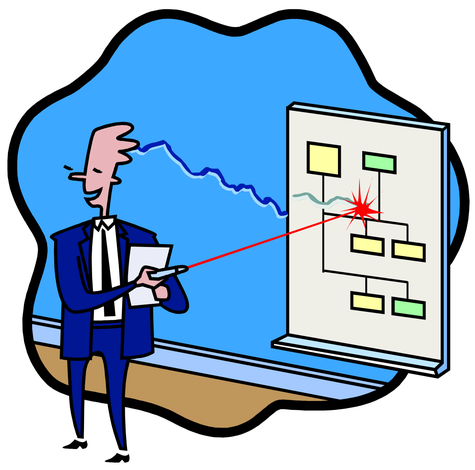
First name, Family name
Affiliation, Country

Introduction of your work

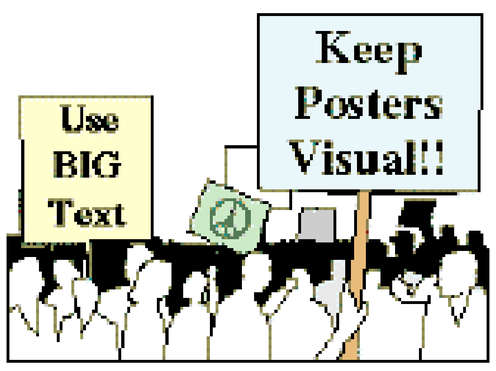
A poster should not contain too many text elements: don’t overload your poster with text. Avoid for instance to simply present large copies of your original paper. The display should be visually appealing to attract an audience and should contain the essence of your paper in a form that is easy to understand.

Methods of your work

Pictures, photographs, figures, graphics, workflow diagrams etc. are usually easier and more visually appealing, rather than long text blocks. You can use visuals that were not present in your paper. And Make the most of the fact the poster is digital e.g. animation, interaction Use colours!



When you use text, it is better not to use smaller font sizes than the smallest ones used in this template (Arial : 50 points). Be sure to use colour to emphasise important features.



Results of your work

Indicate at least the key words or the strongest messages, regarding

- The context and the objectives of your work
- The approach or followed methodology
- The major results and conclusions
- Future perspective

Conclusions of your work

A great poster has to be readable, legible, well-organised and succinct.